Spanish Intolerance.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—A deputation representing the Protestant missionary societies had an interview with Earl Derby relating to the intolerant regulations of the Spanish government. Earl Derby after pointing out the difficulties in which the Spanish government is placed by the strength of clerical party and the vagueness of the wording of the article of the constitution relative to religious toleration, said nothing in the articles, however, justified the closing of Protestant schools, and he did not think the government will take the request. Probably many cases of hardship are due to the over zeal of subordinate officials. I think with regard to acts of intolerance which are clearly not mentioned by the toleration clause of the constitution that when the Cortes has formally proclaimed freedom of worship, subject to such limitations, there can be no question that we have the right to interfere if the promise is violated. So far the more difficult case is when the question at issue is the proper construction of the laws. Personally, I have no doubt that it is an exceedingly forced and strained construction of Spanish law to prohibit, as an external manifestation, singing in church and worshipping with the doors open, so passers by may look in. I think we have the right to claim that the law should not be construed unfavorably to the rights of foreigners in Spain, because they undoubtedly have been encouraged to settle there upon the understanding that they should be free from this kind of annoyance.

Gen. Ignatieff's Mission to Vienna.

A correspondent of the Times commenting on Gen. Ignatieff's mission to Vienna remarks that this is the embassy the Czar sent last autumn on the mission to Belgrade to dissuade the Servians from going to war, although the effort was fruitless. The General then conducted his mission so well that he became a popular person in Belgrade. Therefore the Czar feels himself compelled to act direct by in the affairs of Servia and thus place himself in a position antagonistic to the interests of Austria. His present envoy is a proper person to communicate his views to the Austrian empire, between whom and the Czar a strong sympathy exists. The object of the mission has political importance irrespective of the contents of the letter which the envoy brought.

Gen. Tchernayeff Asked to Resign.

VIENNA, Sept. 28.—A telegram states that the Russian Consul has intimated to Gen. Tchernayeff that his resignation would prevent a complication; add it is reported Tchernayeff has refused to resign.

Notes from Belgrade.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—The Times' correspondent at Belgrade telegraphs that there has been nothing done here to-day, although excitement is not so great as it was. It is believed by the Russians that the conditions of peace proposed by the Powers will be rejected by the Porte. If they are the continuance of the war is certain. It would be madness for Turkey to reject the advice tendered her. The Russians and Servians are hardy races and can endure privation, but the Turks cannot. The Servian government will maintain silence on the question of making Prince Milan king, but the advocates of Servian royalty, who are the majority, declare the proclamation must be made with the celerity of Belgrade in such case the representatives of the Powers would probably be instructed by their governments to retire from Belgrade.

Con. Virginia Dividend.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28.—Considerable speculation has been rife several days past regarding the October dividend of the Consolidated Virginia, in view of the recent rumors concerning the inability of its being passed, and that the surplus on hand is not sufficient, in connection with the receipts of the month, to warrant declaring a dividend as usual. The managers of the mine here are very reticent as to the intention, but it is reported, on what is believed to be good authority, that the surplus is amply sufficient to pay the dividend as usual and carry over a large balance to the next month.

A Women's Mining Bureau Incorporated.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept 28.—There were filed to-day the articles of incorporation of the Women's Mining Bureau. The directors are Mesdames M D. Kellogg, H. M Cook, H. S Kinyon, E Swift, and C. J Stevens. The objects are very comprehensive and embrace the manipulation of money as capital in almost every variety of way, but principally its object is the buying, selling and loaning of money on mining stocks. All of the women whose names appear as directors are well known as successful operators in stocks. The office of the bureau is intended to be a sort of exchange place where women can go and find all published information regarding not only mining interests but all sorts of business interests. An indicator will be placed in the rooms, enabling the members to follow the sales at the stock board as they are made, and messenger boys will be kept in attendance to enable those who wish to send orders to their brokers. The membership is not to be restricted to women, men also may join and participate in the advantages of the institution. The enterprise is said to have found favor with many prominent mining men.

THE NORTHWEST.

Future Greatness of Oregon, Idaho, Washington Territory and British Columbia.

RAILROAD FROM SALT LAKE TO THE COLUMBIA RIVER, CONNECTING WITH A ROAD TO PUGET SOUND AND BRITISH COLUMBIA—ITS IMPORTANCE AND NECESSITY TO THE COUNTRY.

[From the Salt Lake Herald.]

There is no portion of the United States that can claim for itself a brighter and greater future than Oregon, Idaho, Washington Territory and British Columbia. A country rich in all that tends to add to a nation's wealth and prosperity; full of natural resources; splendid climate, with neither extreme hot nor cold weather; with an extensive ocean commerce; the finest rivers and harbors in the world; in fact, all that remains to declare the greatness of so favored a country is the development of its resources. The great Northwest, including British Columbia, embraces a territory larger than France and Prussia combined, and capable of supporting as large a population with a more varied industry. England and Canada, fully appreciating the wealth and future greatness of British Columbia, have been busily engaged for years in forming what is now known as the "Dominion of Canada and British Columbia." As an inducement to the people of British Columbia to agree to this confederation, Canada agreed, and England guaranteed, to build a transcontinental railroad from Vancouver Island to the St. Lawrence river within a specified time. British Columbia at that time, as now, was very anxious to become a part of the United States. She had grown tired of being governed by a country that only sent rulers and petty officials. The people longed for self-government and spoke loudly of annexation to a country whose interests were identical with her own. But England saw and understood the situation; a people occupying so beautiful and productive a country would not remain long isolated from the rest of the busy world. Something must be done and that speedily or England would lose the best portion of her American possessions. Canada was directed to offer the olive branch to British Columbia with the promise of a transcontinental railroad through British America, England guaranteeing the construction of the road. The offer was accepted and all was quiet once more. But the specified time for the building of the road passed without any work having been done, and British Columbia disgusted with the contempt and neglect shown her has returned again "to the object of her first love" with a desire to be taken under the "stars and stripes." So strong was the feeling for annexation in 1859 that many openly declared for it, and all seemed to acquiesce. The majority of the people of British Columbia are either American born, or men who have spent the greater portion of their lives in the mines of the Pacific Slope, and are thoroughly imbued with American ideas. They know little or nothing of the "mother country," and care much less. They cannot be expected to take the same interest in English affairs as the native bred and born Englishman.

PUGET SOUND.

This great inland sea extends from the centre of Western Washington Territory far north into the coal and lumber fields of British Columbia, and opening into the Pacific ocean by the broad and grand Straits of Juan de Fuca, naturally connects Washington Territory and British Columbia and makes their interests identical. Both countries are rich in coal, and the manufacture and exportation of lumber, aggregating about 200,000,000 feet annually, and worth at least $6,000,000. Puget Sound, or the southern portion of this great inland sea, with its numerous bays, has about 2,500 miles of shore line, while the northern portion, or that embraced by British Columbia, will not fall below 1,500 miles of shore line, the lands along which are covered with dense forests of the finest timber in the world. No pen can begin to describe the wonderful harbor, which is large enough to contain the combined commercial fleets of every nation.

With the United States on the north and south, the Rocky Mountains on the east, and the broad Pacific on the west, British Columbia stands the outpost of England, or the embodiment of empty greatness. But she has ambitions, and England must either construct a transcontinental railroad or forever relinquish the right to rule over a country of energetic freemen. A very short time will decide whether she will remain a dependent of England or become a part of the United States. The people have resolved that the problem must be solved, and that without delay. They propose to take their place in the march for greatness, and even now have a leaning partiality for the "Stars and Stripes."

The natural outlet east for British Columbia, Washington Territory, Oregon and Idaho is via the Columbia and Snake river valleys to Salt Lake, connecting with the Union Pacific. For many reasons is this the most practicable and direct route east. From Puget Sound to the Columbia river there is already a railroad constructed, then using the Columbia river as far east as Umatilla, there remain only 325 miles of road to be built through a comparatively level country in order to give that section of country a direct route to New York and Europe. This road, besides being of so much national importance in the transportation of the mails, munitions of war, and Indian annuities, would certainly result in the annexation of British Columbia. In the course of time, the road would be built along the Columbia, and from Puget Sound it would be extended north through British Columbia into Alaska which would bring us face to face with Asia. It is worse than folly to talk of a railroad directly east from British Columbia or Puget Sound, over mountains covered with eternal snows, while nature has prepared a level highway from the Pacific to Salt Lake. A road from Salt Lake to the Columbia river at Umatilla is not only necessary as the great artery of trade between the northwest and the east, but there would be a branch road into western Montana, making this the natural outlet for that country, the richest part of Montana both in mineral and agricultural resources. Thus it is certain that a road from Salt Lake is of more than sectional importance. It is truly an enterprise worthy the consideration of the whole country. But to the people of Salt Lake it should be of the utmost consequence, as it would foster make this the point from which all roads east, west, north or south would have to radiate.

PRISON REFORM.

REPORT OF THE REV. T. L. ELIOT.

The following report has been transmitted to us by His Excellency the Governor of Oregon for publication. It is able and suggestive, and will be read with a good deal of interest, as the subject is one of great importance:

To His Excellency, Gov. Grover of Oregon—DEAR SIR: I had the honor of receiving from you an appointment as delegate from the State of Oregon to the National Prison Reform Congress, meeting in New York City, June 6, 1876. I attended the various sessions of the body, and herewith submit a brief report, promising that the full proceedings of the same are to be published in book form for the use of those interested in the exceedingly important social problem of crime, and its prevention and cure.

The most important paper read, in my judgment, was one arraigning the county jail system of the land. Careful statistics were produced showing the non-curative and crime-multiplying power of the jails, and the almost unanimous protest of governors, grand juries and philanthopists as to the operation of county prisons.

Among others, the following positions were stated and maintained by the speaker:

That the evils complained of grow out of the fact that few counties are strong enough in wealth and population to maintain a prison conducted upon the reformatory, as opposed to the expiatory, idea.

"That the remedy must be in the discharge by the state of its proper responsibility respecting the criminal classes by assuming the immediate custody and control of all convicts.

"That all gradation of criminals should be based, not upon crimes committed, but upon the criminality of character manifested by those who commit them.

"That the only prisons to be maintained by the counties should be those of detention for the suspected or accused.

"Houses of detention ought to be constructed with separate cells for the solitary confinement of the inmates."

The discussion which followed developed the encouraging fact that Michigan, Iowa and Massachusetts already have substantially such a system as that indicated, and that Maine, Indiana and other States were moving in the same direction. I may say here that throughout the conference the State of Michigan seemed to take the lead as one in which more actual reforms have been inaugurated successfully than any other.

A paper upon prisons for women, by Mrs. Colla of India, received warm approval at the hands of the Congress. The leading positions were in favor of devolving the government of women prisoners solely upon competent women, and the highest importance was attached to moral instrumentalities with view to procuring respect for labor, cleanliness and virtue. Great stress was laid upon testing prisoners of this class, thoroughly, before suffering them to leave the jurisdiction of the institution.

The subject of the "Death Penalty" received careful treatment in a paper by Hon. Albert Clark of Vermont. The writer confined himself to the practical question as to whether the abolition of capital punishment would be likely to encourage crime, or actually had so encouraged when tried; and forcibly stated the argument for, and against the death penalty. The more important part of his argument, which favored the removal of the penalty, established two points, which seemed to me of almost convincing importance.

First—That the increasing difficulty of convicting on circumstantial evidence is fast depriving the death penalty of its deterrent force, and secondly, the experience in Prussia, Germany and in several American States, in the abolition of the penalty, and in all civilized countries in the imitation of it, has been followed by decrease rather than an increase of crime.

The speaker said "The growing unwillingness of juries to convict, and Governors to execute, is rendering the enforcement of the law so uncertain as to demand the substitution of a law out of which the intending criminal can see no avenues of escape.

The papers which were brought forward relating to juvenile reformatories, and the earlier stages of crime were replete with interest. They showed that many difficulties and problems surround the subject, and that practice often proves theory to be at fault.

I enclose a cutting, containing words of Mr. Brace, and of a Swedish commissioner which show that unless an assumption embodies the home idea, it is better either to send children away, or substitute some yet to be discovered plan. Papers on the aggregate, and the family plan, seemed to show that a right administration can employ either to advantage, but the latter is far more expensive, if rightly conducted.

I find that much of the remaining business of the congress is difficult to abstract, though of great interest. The department of law brought forward papers on the jury system, statutes concerning insanity and crime, discipline in prisons, and the best system of prisons; also on the imprisonment of witnesses, and the evil of short sentences. This last topic elicited strong expressions of feeling. Leading governments of the world are said to denominate the system as a most potent school of crime, and the executors of the law can see no solution but in displacing repeated short sentences by the system of indeterminate sentences. The treatment of discharged prisoners, with the discussion following it, developed the great injustice of society towards the wretched and weak. The only remedies lie with philanthropic endeavor, or such gradation of prison life as shall insensibly restore prisoners to the world and confidence of mankind. The prison of Lusk, Ireland, where the inmates graduate from one department to another by merit, and finally have entire liberty, was strongly commented upon as the only solution of this subject. The inmates of that prison are sought for by employers after their discharge. A paper on station houses and lock-ups was of great interest. It was shown that even this early stage of treatment of crime admitted of great and greatly needed reform. Solitary confinement should be insisted on, and the first fall carefully guarded from unnecessary shame and despair. The method at present surrounds the hapless offender with every circumstance of publicity and possible insult—enough in many cases to complete the ruin of self respect.

The subject of trades in prisons elicited some discussion as to the question of whether team work or full trade should be taught.

The address of Wm. Cullen Bryant at the opening of the session, and that of Dr E. C. Wines, the secretary, at its close, were most earnest pleas for an increased public attention to the subject of crime, and society's responsibility both in causes and cure. The last few years has produced a deep and wide spread conviction in many minds that civilization is in no respect so far behind reason and Christian principle as in this of prison treatment. To defend society by curing the criminal is the only safety. "To prevent the contagion of guilt from spreading," is the only principle of action.

Mr. Wines forcibly stated that the congress and prison reformers were no apologists for crime. The most humane men were those who most earnestly advocated wholesome severity as a stage in prison discipline, deprecating, as they also do, any arbitrary exercise of it. What is needed is not right convictions on the part of those deeply interested as laborers in criminal reform and officers, so much as an aroused general public sentiment in the directions where enlightenment and lethargy have reigned.

Very respectfully submitted by your obedient servant,

T. L. ELIOT.

LEGISLATIVE NOTES.

[FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.]

SALEM, Sept. 28, 1876.

The two days last past have been days of some good honest work on part of both houses, but except in pushing things toward accomplishment, the result is not great, nothing of importance having as yet been put into actual form of law. Bills still continue to come into both houses in great numbers, and as a large proportion of those introduced in the Senate and nearly all in the lower house are ordered to be sent to the

STATE PRINTER,

That officer is being taxed to the full extent of the force at his command to keep up his part of the business of the session. He, however, can afford to be rushed with the work, as the coin from the State Treasury will rush into his pockets in a corresponding ratio when the appropriation to pay the expenses of this session is made. FRIDAY MORNING SEPT 29 1876

REAL AND PRETENDING REFORMERS

When Gov Hayes' letter with its bold declaration of what sort of reforms were indispensably necessary for the good government of the country appeared all the Democratic papers united in saying that his declaration might sound well enough, but that nothing would come of it he cause his party would not be guided by him, that the old system of extortion and corruption would be followed, and that from the Democratic party alone could real reform be expected Since then some significant events have occurred Gov. Tilden, the model reformer, whom the Democrats put up as the representative man of their reform party, has been accused of duplicity and crime, and evidence of his guilt has been produced of such convincing character that even his own papers have called upon him for a satisfactory explanation and have admitted that failing such explanation he must stand convicted of the charges. This explanation he has not dared to attempt to give—nor has he ever denied the truth of the charges themselves His law clerk has, indeed, undertaken to put forth a defense—the best probably the nature of the case admitted of—but that defense has not been accepted as complete or sufficient, and the representative of the party from which alone reform could be expected is believed by a great majority of the people to be a perjured violator of the laws of his country.

Gov. Hayes was similarly accused, but the accusation was instantly met with a bold denial and the slander died in its birth.

The Democrats in our sister State, while professing to be desirous of civil service reform, practised the worst kind of corruption of the civil service in levying an assessment of forty thousand dollars on the city and county officers of the State for use in the present political campaign to secure the election of their candidates, while, on the other hand, the Republican State central committee, in a resolution recently passed, denounce the practice of levying political assessments on candidates and office-holders, and declare their intention to rely on voluntary contributions from friends of the party for means to meet the expenses of the ca upaign

The contrast between the two parties is striking. Gov Hayes declares boldly what reform is, and his supporters practise what he teaches. Gov. Tilden babbles in a vain way about usufructs, etc., and his party proceed to levy assessments on all who have offices to hope for, or offices to lose. Gov. Hayes is slandered—the slander is boldly met and perishes as soon as uttered. Gov Tilden is charged with the commission of crime, evidence of his guilt is produced, and he is invited to controvert it. Instead of being able to do this in a manly and fully, he remains silent and pets for and an advocate who makes a woful failure, and leaves his client in no bet condition than he was at first, if in as good a one!

It is not difficult from this to discover who are in earnest about reform and intend to effect it, and who pretend to favor a farce or to get possession of office

NEW PUBLICATIONS

Lippincott's Monthly —The October number of this excellent magazine lies on our desk Its contents is unusual, varied and very interesting. The initial article on Salmon Fishing is a very pleasantly written account of how salmon are caught in eastern Canadian waters, and the remarks about the care taken by the Canadian government to preserve these valuable fish may serve as a hint to us to see to it that the salmon in the Columbia be not exterminated. Mr Clarence Cook gives No 4 of the series of articles on house furnishing The style of some of the furniture recommended by Mr. Cook is very chaste and elegant; and the designs given for other pieces seem to us rather fantastic than otherwise and somewhat splendiferous in appearance. The two serial stories now intending as they grow in length, and many readers will be glad to see more of "That Lass o' Lowries," and "Miss Nelson's friends." There are good articles on the Chinese in this country on the centennial exhibition, and on the Massachusetts agricultural college, besides lighter matter, poetry, etc. On the whole the number is a good one.

St. Nicholas —This illustrated magazine for girls and boys, is one of the very best of the kind. The October number can be read with interest and profit by grown up people, without having too learned or dry for the little ones The table of contents is very promising and in the articles the promise is well fulfilled The admirable manner in which this magazine is conducted shows the publishers, Messrs Scribner & Co, have been fortunate in their selection of editress

The Life, Public Services and Select Speeches of Rutherford B Hayes by J Q Howard published by Robert Clarke & Co of Cincinnati, and for sale at No 77 Front street, in this city, by Griffith Davies, Esq., is a very desirable work and should be purchased by every one desirous of becoming fully acquainted with the personal history of our next President The book is well gotten up and embellished with a fine steel portrait engraving of the subject of the biography

The following telegraphic dispatch from Salem appeared in the San Francisco Chronicle

SALEM, Sept 22—The way the legislature would shape in United States Senator to-day was well known here last night The struggle ended by the withdrawal of J W Nesmith and the election of L F Grover on the first ballot, the vote standing Grover 48 Applegate 33 Nesmith 5 Campbell 4 Stanis threw his influence some days since to Grover on promise or bond, the candidate two years hence Every effort imaginable has been brought to bear to accomplish this election It is rumored that disappointed Republican ex office holders had much to do in accomplishing the result to-day, preferring to send Grover to a man who would work in harmony with Mitchell The usual ratifying etc., was indulged in Set Oregon down for 1 500 for Hayes and Wheeler

This dispatch was evidently prepared and sent off by the lobby of Republican office holders who were present in Salem during the Senatorial contest working for Gov Grover The ex office holders had nothing to do with the election of Gov Grover on the contrary they were using every effort to secure the election of some one who would have been more acceptable to the Republicans, and would have rendered better efforts of the lobby of which we allude to. The statement that ex office holders thus in Salem were disappointed is wholly gratuitous as these ex office holders were neither disappointed nor disaffected, but were loyally striving, for the good and harmony of the party

It will be remembered that some months ago it was determined by the Spanish government to abolish the Fueros and subject the Basque provinces to the same laws and usages which prevailed throughout the rest of the kingdom This was deemed necessary in order to make Spain a united country Great objection was made to the proposed abolition by the friends of the Basque provinces, and they went so far as to assert that the provinces would not consent to the abolition, but would resist it by force if necessary This was considered an empty threat and the law abolishing the Fueros was passed News now reaches us that the Fueros have assembled and that the Basque provinces are resolved to maintain them Of course the government must uphold the law it enacted and serious consequences may be expected to ensue Twice before these attempts have been made to abolish the Fueros and in each instance war has broke out and the attempts were unsuccessful It is not probable that they will be tamely surrendered now

So far as we are concerned it is a matter of no consequence whether Spain is a united country or not It does not affect our well being in the remotest degree, but to Spain it is absolutely necessary to have all the provinces of the kingdom subject to the same general laws

We publish this morning an article from the Salt Lake Herald on the subject of Eastern railway connection with North Pacific Coast, which presents the matter very intelligibly This article can not but interest our readers just at this time, when the subject of Eastern railway connection by direct route is attracting so much attention We are glad to see that some of our leading citizens have at last taken up this matter of direct connection and are organizing for a vigorous prosecution of the enterprise We understand a bill is in course of preparation looking to legislative encouragement, and will in a few days be presented for action.

One of the most surprising instances of absence of mind occurred lately at the Centennial A lady visiting the Exposition forgot the name of the hotel where she was staying, and of the street in which it was All her efforts to recollect were unavailing so she put herself in charge of a policeman who telegraphed home to her husband and obtained the desired information

The receipts for admission to the Centennial Exposition yesterday amounted to $120 690 76

RUPTURE!

No More Metallic Trusses Used!

No More Suffering from Iron Hoops or Steel Springs!

THE SUPERIORITY OF OUR ELASTIC Trusses over the rigid iron Hoops which in former days were the only resources of the ruptured, admits of NO ARGUMENT

By means of this appliance the pressure on the Rupture itself can be made uniform and continuous and to the extent required in each case until a slight inflammation of the parts is secured and the consequent effusion of lymph which is essential to a healing process, and from this time to the conclusion of the treatment the pressure being entirely within the control of the patient can be lessened daily as the adhesion progresses and the body becomes sound All cases of recent Hernia are permanently relieved without regard to the age of the patient or the duration of the injury while in each section it is wholly free from all the cruelty that has characterized the treatment of the malady with tortious Metal Trusses from the earliest age to the present day Your attention is called to the following facts

1st—There are no springs to press upon or to injure the back.

2d—It is simple in construction and not liable to get out of order

3d—This instrument is worn with perfect ease while riding horseback

4th—The Rupture is retained and the pressure the same while in any position

5th—It has none of the injurious results of metallic Trusses

6th—It will perform radical cures when all others fail

7th—It is worn with ease and comfort night and day which cannot be said truthfully of an metal Truss whatever

Experience shows that all tempered spring Trusses necessarily press upon and often disease parts of the body that before were in a perfectly healthy condition Lumbago and other equally distressing ailments are not unfrequently the outgrowth of such pressure and in view of this fact it becomes a matter of decided consequence to avoid like calamities, if possible

Examination Free The closest scrutiny of physicians solicited

MONTGOMERY QUEEN'S CIRCUS.

The great show has arrived and the tents were pitched on the Park blocks south of Maine street yesterday afternoon. The first performance was given last night and the spacious tent filled to its fullest capacity, some two thousand persons occupying seats and standing room. The grand entree was made by the entire stock of horses and the animals, and closed with the usual riding by the company. The young Samson followed in his act with cannon balls, and Lowanda next appeared in his equestrian act, throwing forward and backward somersaults in a finished manner. The triple trapeze, by the Matthews Bros. and M'lle Ladretta, followed. This act elicited great applause, being done in excellent style; many feats were thrilling in the extreme. Master Louis Sebastian appeared in postillion act on the four Shetland ponies, pleasing particularly the younger portion of the audience. Madame Brown's act manege was very fine, the lady showing conclusively that she fully understood the art. The feature of the evening was the performance of Madam D'Atallie, who carried her pupils and two men on her shoulders, and crowned the act by holding a brass cannon, which it required four men to lift, upon her shoulders, while one of her pupils, standing on the same, fired it off. M'lle Louise Brown rode a bareback act, executing successfully a somersault while riding her horse. The young lady is a finished artist. Ringmaster Organ introduced the performing Arabian pony which performed numerous tricks. Fred Levantine's performance with the barrel was neatly executed. Sig. Quaglieni with his pupil did a bare-back act in most excellent style, affording the audience much satisfaction. The clowns were Nat Austin and the Kenebels, whose funny sayings and acts kept the audience in the best of spirits. The music was decidedly good, an improvement which the audience no doubt appreciated. A concert closed the programme, in which Billy Arlington, widely-known as a first-class negro, and Miss Patti Rosa, a neat clog dancer, took part. Though short, their entertainment was good. The menagerie was visited by many and is far superior to any that has visited us. We found the gentlemen connected with the show to be polite and accommodating which is more than can be said generally of professional people. The show is ahead of anything of the kind seen here and merits the large attendance it will be sure to receive. A performance this afternoon and evening, and two to-morrow. A street parade on Saturday, the route of which will be announced hereafter.

BRIEF NOTES.

Circus to night.

Forty patients are at present domiciled in St. Vincent's hospital.

There will be a religious profession at the Mother House of the Sisters of Charity, Vancouver, next Wednesday.

The grand street parade of Montgomery Queen's circus was witnessed yesterday afternoon by thousands of our citizens.

Father Bronsgeat who recently arrived from Belgium, will, we understand, occupy the position of assistant pastor at the Cathedral.

The west side road is doing a heavy freighting business now. Twenty-seven cars mostly loaded with wheat came down one day lately.

The hull of Weidler's new steamboat, now on the ways at the lower saw mill, is almost completed. The first and second coats of paint have been put on.

The new government cutter is rapidly approaching the finishing touches. From present indications the vessel will be ready to make the trial trip within two weeks.

The foundation for a large boarding school for the use of the Indian children under the care of the Sisters of the Holy Names, at Grand Ronde Indian reservation was laid last week.

It is said that Rev. L. Verhaag will be appointed pastor of St. Francis Church, East Portland. Father Verhaag has labored zealously to erect this beautiful church. On Sunday divine service will commence at 10. A. M.

INFLAMMABLE BILLIARD BALLS.

CORVALLIS, Sept. 27, 1876.

CITY EDITOR OREGONIAN:

In your locals of yesterday is an account of the igniting of a supposed ivory billiard ball. There has been in use for some time a preparation in imitation of ivory, and I think called xiluloid. The preparation is kept secret, but is a preparation of gun cotton and camphor. It is very inflammable and also very dangerous, from the fact that no one mistrusts their inflammability. GEO. MERCER.

ENTERTAINMENTS.

The young people of the Unitarian Society are preparing an entertainment of a musical and literary character to be given Friday evening, October 6th.

A grand vocal, instrumental, and scenic entainment will take place at New Market Theater on next Tuesday evening, the proceeds to be devoted to liquidating a portion of the debt on St. Francis' Catholic Church, East Portland.

POLICE COURT NOTES.

The following cases were disposed of yesterday morning: C. Bilford, drunk and disorderly, fined $10, paid; O. Peterson, drunk and disorderly, committed for 5 days; Lunahan, d. and d., fined $5, paid; John Close, d. and d., committed for 3 days; P. Daly d. and d., committed five days.

THE HOWE SEWING MACHINE.—A telegram from Philadelphia, dated Sept. 23th, says: "To A. M. Cannon, Portland: Highest award at Centennial to the Howe." Signed "H. K. Agtes."

MOVING.—All day yesterday and the day before might have been seen trucks heavily loaded with liquors and cigars, moving the extensive stock of Fleckenstein & Mayer to their new store, 12 Front street.

TO MARINERS!—Frank Fabre will receive at his place of business, corner Ash and Second streets, this evening, a fine lot of fresh fish from Gig Harbor.

The world is going to end, and Kohn is selling his mammoth stock of clothing cheaper than ever.

Dr. C. M. Wood, the celebrated healer, is now curing chronic diseases at the American Exchange, Portland.

W. L. ADAMS, M. D., A. M., LL. D., corner of First and Salmon streets, is curing the most inveterate chronic diseases of all kinds at a low price, by medicated, electric lightning cream baths, and by combining the German and French with the American improved practice, mixed with a little common sense. His treatment is, in the main, entirely original, and works almost miracles, as his numerous patients will attest. Is extraordinarily successful in treating female complaints.

Sore eyes speedily relieved. The worst form of piles cured, and the most malignant cancers eradicated root and branch without the use of the knife, or the money refunded.

PILES! NO CURE, NO PAY! PILES!

PILES OR HEMORRHOIDS, FISTULA IN ANO AND OTHER DISEASES OF THE RECTUM CAN BE CURED. Those suffering from the above distressing complaints would do well to call and see me soon, as I expect to go to Olympia in a few days, and visit other points on the Sound. I shall be absent a month or six weeks. Remember if I do not give relief and cure you, I shall not charge you for my services or the medicines used. To persons of limited means I would say, should you suffer because you are poor? My answer is, no! Come and be Cured. Rooms on Third street, between Washington and Alder; P. O. Box 247, Portland, Oregon. DR. C. F. WIGHTMAN.

N. B. Persons writing will please enclose stamp for return postage. Diseases of private character especially treated without mercury.

Kohn keeps the largest stock, sells the most, and therefore sells the cheapest.

SHIPPING NOTES.

The Salado has about discharged her cargo of coal at the Gas Co's dock.

The Modoc is loading lumber at Cementville, and will shortly be ready for sea.

The French bark Frédéric is anchored midstream. The Blanche is lying at Flanders' wharf.

The schooner Hera has discharged all her cargo, and will load with lumber and produce for San Francisco.

The Oneida and City of York are lying at the railroad wharf. Neither vessel, so far as we have learned, has secured a charter yet.

The steamer John L. Stephens is announced to sail hence for San Francisco, with freight and passengers, to-morrow (Saturday) morning at 6 p'clock.

The bark Welfoot is now lying at Captain Flanders' wharf. She commenced to discharge cargo yesterday morning. The Welfoot will probably load with lumber at Cementville for San Francisco.

The British bark Canonia is still moored at Flanders' wharf. A force of men will probably commence to discharge cargo from that vessel this morning. The Canonia is on the market for charter.

All the cargo of the British bark Cleta has been discharged, but a quantity of salt. Before this article can be taken out it will be necessary to stiffen her up with grain or flour. As yet we believe the Cleta has not been chartered.

The bark Armanilla was moored yesterday at the Greenwich dock. This morning the vessel will commence receiving grain for Europe, and will soon be ready to go down the river. The Armanilla is under charter to Rodgers, Meyer & Co.

The bark Mattie Macley is lying at Corbitt & Macleay's wharf, and has not yet commenced to discharge her cargo of Hawaiian produce. The Arctic, under charter to Corbitt & Macleay, is lying at the same wharf. Her cargo of wheat was completed last evening.

The fine ship Warwick Castle has been hauled alongside the east-side dock. This vessel is under charter to Rodgers, Meyer & Co., and will carry to Europe a mixed cargo, consisting of flour, grain and salmon. She will receive a considerable quantity of flour at the east side and then go down the river, where the remainder of her cargo will be completed with salmon.

FINE WHEAT.

Mr. Paul Schultze, of the O. & C. R. R. land department, has received the following letter, which we are kindly allowed to publish. The wheat referred to in the letter belongs to the species known as the "Sonora." We have examined the specimen furnished, and find that the grains are all large, plump, well developed, of good weight, and will almost compare in size and quality with the best white wheat.

HALSEY, Oregon, Sept. 25, 1876.

P. Schultze, Esq.:—I send you by passenger train to-day one bushel struck measure Sonora wheat, sown by J. H. Lane of this place the 22d of May, 1876, and harvested by him the 21st of August, 1876, making 89 days from time of sowing. It yielded 261 bushels per acre and is here considered a very fine specimen. I promised Mr. Lane to have half of it sent to the Centennial. If you cannot attend to it please let me know. The other half I intend for the company to be sent to their Eastern office, as per your circular. Some of the same wheat sown earlier went 37 bushels per acre. Yours, etc. J. H. THOMPSON.

DISCOVERY.

Dr. Halpruner wishes to announce to the public that his operations and medicines for the treatment of CORNS, BUNIONS, etc., are all of his own discovery, and are entirely different from any other chiropodist's treatment on the coast. Persons afflicted with CORNS, etc., can have them treated at their residence or place of business by sending their order through the postoffice, or leaving them at J. Kohn's clothing store. Satisfaction guaranteed, or no charges. Terms reasonable.

LAND FOR IMMIGRANTS.

Choice Farms for Sale.

4,000 ACRES, IN QUANTITIES TO SUIT PURCHASERS.

230 ACRES DUE SOUTH AND ADJOINING the Railroad Depot at Salem, all under cultivation, and suitable for grain or vegetables.

946 Acres, four miles southeast of Salem, on the railroad, with Mill creek running through it. This is the choicest farming land in Marion county, with fine springs, consisting in part of the old Rector donation claim on which I raised the present year fifty bushels of wheat and three tons of timothy per acre. The first crop of oats ever raised on part of this land measured ninety four bushels per acre; grain weighed and ground chained by Mr. Alfred Stanton, of Salem.

3,200 Acres of prairie and light brush land, with timber for farming purposes, bounded by the Willamette River for four miles, beautiful lake on the east, boat landings all along the river, commencing four miles north of Salem—all choice grain land—the largest and most suitable body of land to be found in the Willamette Valley to be purchased by the colony. To be sold from $15 to $25 per acre. This land will all be immediately resurveyed, and can be sold in larger or smaller parcels, to suit purchasers. It can be subdivided to the best possible advantage, and I can offer any person or persons, or colony of persons desiring to purchase homes in this best part of the Willamette Valley, near the city of Salem and within reach of the best social advantages, as well as most favorably located with respect to markets, greater advantages, on more favorable terms, than they can ever expect to realize again.

Pittinger, non resident defendants In the name of the State of Oregon, you are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled court and suit by the 9th day of October, A. D. 1876, the same being the first day of the next regular term of said court to be held after the expiration of six weeks from the first publication of this summons and if you fail so to answer for want thereof the plaintiff will take judgment against defendant C.
